

Technology Enhanced Learning for Actuarial Science Education

Edward W. (Jed) Frees and Margie Rosenberg, University of Wisconsin-Madison, U.S.A.

This talk will provide a progress report on the education grant awarded to the University of Wisconsin-Madison as part of the Centers of Actuarial Excellence 2010 competition. Learning tools that have been developed to date are available (free) to the public at <http://instruction.bus.wisc.edu/jfrees/UWCAELearn/default.aspx>. In this talk, we will:

- 1) describe the grant objectives,
- 2) describe year one accomplishments (finished products),
- 3) describe learning tools being developed,
- 4) invite the audience to encourage students to visit the site, use these tools and provide feedback to us (TEFeedback@bus.wisc.edu),
- 5) invite the audience to share ideas of directions that we might take, and
- 6) invite the audience to publish their own learning tools on this SoA sponsored learning web site.
