

A Study of Public Employees □
Retirement Systems

Table of Contents

	Page
I. Introduction	1
II. Review of Recent PERS Experience Studies	3
A. Active Mortality Rates	3
B. Disablement Rates	4
C. Termination Rates	4
D. Retirement Rates	5
E. Retiree Mortality	5
F. Disabled Mortality	5
G. Interest Rates	7
H. Salary Scales.....	7
III. Review of Individual Reports	9
A. The California State Teachers' Retirement System 1988–1991 Study	9
B. The State of Mississippi Retirement Systems Study for the Two-Year Period Ending June 30, 1992	10
C. The New York State and Local Retirement System Study for April 1, 1986 to March 31, 1991.....	12
D. The Ohio State Highway Patrol Retirement System Study for January 1, 1985 to December 31, 1989.....	13
E. The Employees Retirement System of Texas Study for 1985–1989	14
IV. Review of PERS Actuarial Assumptions and Methods	17
A. Actuarial Cost Methods.....	17
B. Actuarial Asset Valuation Methods: Equities	18
C. Actuarial Asset Valuation Methods: Fixed-Income Investments	18
D. Economic Assumptions: Interest Rates	19
E. Economic Assumptions: Salary Increases (Average of Rates at Ages 30, 40, 50, and 60)	19
F. Economic Assumptions: Inflation	20
G. Economic Assumptions: The Real Rate of Return (Difference between Interest and Inflation)	20
H. Economic Assumptions: The Spread between Interest and Salary Increases (Average of Rates at Ages 30, 40, 50, and 60)	21
I. Demographic Assumptions: Active Mortality (Average of Rates at Ages 40, 50, and 60)	22
J. Demographic Assumptions: Disablement (Average of Rates at Ages 40, 45, 50, and 55)	22
K. Valuation Assumptions: Withdrawal (Average of Rates at Ages 25, 30, 35, 40, and 45)	23
L. Valuation Assumptions: Retired Mortality (Average of Rates at Ages 60, 70, and 80)	23
M. Valuation Assumptions: Disabled Mortality (Average of Rates at Ages 60, 70, and 80)	24
V. Review of Investment Strategies and Return	25
A. Fund and Portfolio Characteristics: Fund Sizes	25
B. Fund and Portfolio Characteristics: Equity Holdings	25
C. Fund and Portfolio Characteristics: Fixed-Income Holdings	26
D. Fund and Portfolio Characteristics: Conglomerated Asset Allocation	26
E. Review of Asset Allocation Targets	26

Table of Contents—Continued

	Page
F. Review of Investment Policy	29
1. Florida Retirement System	29
2. The Teachers' Retirement System of Louisiana	30
3. Minnesota State Retirement System	32
4. The California Public Employees' Retirement System	33
VI. Summary of Findings	35
A. Active Mortality	35
B. Disablement Rates	35
C. Withdrawal Rates	35
D. Retirement Rates	35
E. Retiree Mortality	35
F. Disabled Mortality	35
G. Interest Rates	35
H. Salary Scales.....	35
I. Actuarial Cost Methods.....	36
J. Asset Valuation Methods	36
Appendix A. Study Methodology and Response	37
Appendix B. Column Names and Data Codes	41
Appendix C. Listing of Respondents and Reports Received	47
Appendix D. Experience Study Data	51
Appendix E. Valuation Report Data	85
Appendix F. Investment Data	127